RECALLS SPIRIT OF '76

Preparedness Absolutely Necessary Unless We Supinely Give Up Attempt to Compel Respect.The dangers of unpreparedness were graphically portrayed to the Senate yesterday by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee.
He stirred the Senate deeply by declaring that unless one of the belligerents is adequately prepared to use force, if necessary, it will be unable to obtain satisfaction for the many injuries it has received at the hands of the warring European nations.Senator Chamberlain was urging the adoption of his army reorganization bill.
He made the most vigorous and stirring speech in behalf of preparedness yet voiced in the Senate.
Almost the entire day's session in the Senate was devoted to speakers pleading for the adoption of the army bill.
Senators O'Gorman, of New York, and John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, both seconded all that Senator Chamberlain said.Senator Chamberlain said:
"We do not need any preparation unless we intend to assert the Monroe Doctrine and make it a live force in this republic.
We do not need any preparedness if we intend to allow one of the belligerents to take the lives of our people who have the right to travel in other lands than our own.""We do not need any preparedness if we intend to let another of the belligerents take our ships into its ports, and not only our ships, but the ships of other powers that are neutral in this trouble, and search them and go aboard the ships and take people off our own bottoms."

Recalls Spirit of Revolution.

"We do not need any preparation if we intend to submit to these indignities, but for one, I insist that the same spirit that induced our forefathers to throw tea into Boston Harbor, the same spirit that animated our forefathers in the war of 1812, and in the later wars of the republic, ought to animate us.""They say that we are not going to have any invasion. Here within the past few weeks a hundred or more bandits from the south of us have invaded the United States and we have not caught them yet.""How large a body of men from any other country would it take to put us out of commission?""The Senator from California in a speech truly stated that on the Pacific coast alone there were trained veterans of the Russo-Japanese war in excess of our continental army. There is not any question about that. Why shut our eyes to the conditions?""Germany, one of the belligerents today, has over 90,000 German reservists in this country. I am not an alarmist, but I have great fear that the time may come when this country ought to assert itself and she will not be in position to assert herself.""I sometimes am compelled to compare our present condition with the condition that confronted our small population in 1812. There is not a single rule of national or international law that was violated then, and which led to war, which has not been violated ten times as much in the past few days."If you can paint a house better than the other fellow, mow a lawn cleaner, plant a garden more scientifically, or run a fruit stand more efficiently, TELL PEOPLE ABOUT YOURSELF IN THE WANT COLUMNS. It will bring you patronage.—Dan Sayles.Selling Used

C. E. SMITH SPEAKS

President of Bluecoats' Association Urges Renewed Efforts—Summer Outing Discussed.The board of directors of the Washington Chamber of Commerce reas-serted its stand in favor of a pension fund for policemen and firemen at a meeting last night in the chamber's headquarters. P. T. Moran, president of the chamber, presided at the session.C. E. Smith, president of the Police-men's Association, appeared before the directors to urge them to repeat their efforts for the passage of a bill to put the pension fund on an adequate basis.
Mr. Smith declared a petition for the fund signed by 4,000 taxpayers had been filed with Ben Johnson, chairman of the House District Committee. He said a deficit of $67,000 existed under the present pension system.

Willing to Pay More.

The policemen's representative declared the policemen, numbering 716, would be willing to pay $1.50 instead of the $1 they now pay monthly toward supporting the fund. This increase of 50 per cent from the policemen would be of great help to the dependents on the fund, he said.The directors discussed informally plans for an excursion this summer.
Suggestions were made that the organization take a trip to New York, another suggestion being to take an automobile trip. The chamber usually takes an outing at one of the river or bay resorts.It was decided to urge the choosing of Washington as a 1917 convention place before the encampment of Sons of Confederate Veterans and the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will meet in Birmingham during the summer.
